Mattapoisett's Only Commercial Bank

For those of you who live in or near Mattapoisett, there's one great reason to bank at Plymouth-Home National Bank. We're the only commercial bank in town.

So if you're driving to other towns to do your banking, maybe you ought to re-consider. Plymouth-Home offers every banking service you need, from checking and NOW accounts to IRA, Keogh and corporations retirement accounts. We've just increased the interest on our savings accounts to 5¼%. And we've also just lowered the minimum on many certificates of deposit to $500.

You can get to our Mattapoisett office on foot, by bike (park in our bike rack) or by using very little gas. That fact alone makes Plymouth-Home very sweet, indeed.

The Fall Gathering

Country Miss never misses a detail, and these are particularly nice... gentle gathers, velveteen piping and covered buttons at the wrists, and a front "wrap" effect you can ignore in lady-like fashion, or vamp it with a bit of leg.

Either way, it's a lovely dress!

Selectmen's Meeting

Council on Aging spokesman Joseph Rochette told Mattapoisett Selectmen that Mattapoisett is "far behind area towns" in services for seniors. According to Mr. Rochette, the Council's files need to be brought up to date, seniors need help in winterizing, fuel assistance, shoveling snow, seniors who might need food in storms, etc. etc. He said that the Council on Aging needs contact with the District Nurse and the Vial of Life program.

According to Mr. Rochette the Council on Aging office needs a senior aide on duty 9 to 12 every day Monday through Friday. He said that otherwise there is no way to contact the Council. The Selectmen pointed out that someone is in the Selectmen's office to take calls all day every day. Mr. Rochette replied that it won't do. According to him the Coastline Elderly Service in New Bedford had been trying to reach him for months unsuccessfully. He asked, "what if there is an emergency call?" The Selectmen had checked and found that no calls from Coastline Services for Rochette had ever been received at their office. They inquired why could "emergency" calls not reach him directly at his home. He replied that he is seldom at home.

The Selectmen said that if Rochette found the need they could agree on an aide for 20 hours a week to file and answer the telephone. They said that they had serious reservations, however, with a consultant to be hired at $5000. to train the aide. They suggested to Mr. Rochette that the Council on Aging Committee members, who are most familiar with the

Rochester Band Concert

A BAND CONCERT IN ROCHESTER??

Yes, indeed. John Pandolfi is bringing his band to Rochester as part of the Rochester 300 celebration. The scene will be the stand set up on the "Green", the same stand that was a reviewing stand for the parade. This structure was built for the Town as a gift of George Church, and with the help of Bob Sherman. We have all been proud of this temporary structure, and extend our thanks to George and Bob.

The date for the concert is Sunday evening, August 26th, BUT, and of course a big but...if there is rain on either Saturday or Sunday, the concert will be Wednesday, August 29. Confusing? Yes. But the band has a commitment Saturday, rain

YOUNG PEOPLE'S THEATER

DANCER. A dance to the end of summer. In this dance I have symbolized the summer solstice in its declension. The tides -- the sand -- the sea. The summer flowers -- the sandpipers -- the good fisherfolk. Insect repellent, the main boardwalk, baby oil. All are gathered in an organic unity. All testify to man and nature being as one. (Two kids watching dancer dance.)

BIG KID: What's she doing that for?

LITTLE KID: To lose weight.

This vignette sets the mood of "Feiffer's People", written by cartoonist Jules Feiffer and presented August 23, 24 and 25 at 8:00 P.M. at the Marion Art Center by the Young People's Theater. This is a comic strip of a play, with 46 short skits and character sketches to get across Feiffer's witty, sarcastic and very funny view of life. He laughs at life and asks you to laugh with him.

SOME THOUGHTS OF THE PROPOSED BEACH AT MARY'S POND

Why does it have to be that large? The plans currently call for 1400 feet of beach which of course do not exist. The area is covered with bushes, trees, and rocks. This proposal would involve a certain amount of rearrangement of the present landscape and could pose some ecological damage to the pond. Also, would the state continue to stock it as trout pond? Large bathing areas and trout ponds don't usually go together.

How can such a "park" be policed? Rochester residents want their own beach and might have a hard time trying to keep a separate one under the existing conditions. Cheek by jowl with the present public beach it might not be either separate or aesthetically satisfying. The police, the owners of the parking lot, and the few of us residents on the pond will all testify to the unruliness and disorder of the present patrons of our pond.

How can the town of Rochester afford such a large expenditure as is proposed? Buying the land for $95,000 is of course only the first step. Landscaping and its resulting problems plus the expense of maintenance and policing lie ahead.

A voter at the last town meeting said enthusiastically, "Let's buy the property by all means! Land can go nowhere but up!" I agree. Such a property should be in the hands of the town and if properly and wisely administered, would be a lovely little wildlife preserve for Rochester people. But let's not turn this lovely little pond upside down, circle it with concrete and lay endless burdens on us taxpayers.

In the meantime, WHY is there not a public access to Snow's Pond? It is a great pond and under the laws of the Commonwealth should have some opening for the public. The smallest access would give boaters and swimmers a chance and take some of the load off Mary's Pond.

Is it fair that one should be over-used and the other be completely closed to the public?

Tobey Hospital

On Friday, August 17th, in the Tobey Hospital dining room, twenty-six young adults who participated in a six week summer junior volunteer program were recognized for their part in contributing over 600 hours to Tobey Hospital. At the program's outset, each "candy-striper" made an individual commitment to provide hours of volunteer service to the patients at the hospital. Friday's ceremony, at which each volunteer received a pin and a certificate of attendance, was the recognition of the individual's fulfillment of that commitment.

Speakers at the ceremony were Ms. Robin Griffin, R.N., Nursing Supervisor, and Ms. Beth Ramsay, R.N., a former student volunteer. Mr. John A. Kelenosy

"Desire under the Elms"

WITHSTANDS TIME. A Review by Edith Byrnes

Wareham: THE GATEWAY PLAYERS have mounted an exquisite production of Eugene O'Neill's timeless classic, "Desire Under the Elms". Set in 1850 on a New England farmhouse, this folk tragedy traces the downfall of the Cabot family. It studies lust, greed, incest and murder in a crisp Yankee manner. The plot lends itself to folklore and is filled with tension, suspense and insight.

As the 76 year old Ephraim Cabot, Larry Bennett adds another characterization marked by excellent makeup and development. Kay Carter Blaha gives one of her finest performances as the sensual, yet stoic Abbie, the bought bride. Ernest Gendron is amazingly skilled as the youngest son Eben. No one would ever believe it is only his second stage appearance. The lovers' bedroom scenes in the second act are among the most touching in the production.

Excellent support is provided by Al Theodore and Greg Leonard as the brute force older brothers on their way to the gold fields of California. Opening night received a standing ovation.

The large farmhouse set by Mary Conley is imaginative and inspired. George W. Hayden seems able to direct show after show to perfection. Background music by Rick Britto is haunting and costumes by Ruth catch the mood nicely. A large supporting cast of square dancers and townspeople are most capable. Lighting by Kathy Donlan makes for a visual treat. This is a handsomely staged production of O'Neill's seldom produced classic; well worth the time and attention of the community. The production plays Thursdays through Saturdays throughout the month of August concluding its run September 1st. For reservations: 295-6768. Tickets available at the Box Office of the playhouse off Route 6, Wareham.

The Yale University Russian Chorus has just returned from a fantastic trip to Moscow, Russia, performing in their entirety, under the able conductorship of Steven Lipsitt. In Moscow and surrounding towns, they were received most enthusiastically for their return performance within the last two years. They were widely acclaimed, so much so, Steven had several bouquets of flowers presented to him, which he graciously acknowledged.

Last April, the Chorus performed at Wickenden Chapel, Tabor Academy, where a most appreciative, large audience expressed a desire for them to return to Tabor in the foreseeable future. This chorus has been performing in many cities and colleges in the United States, including a recent repeat performance at Carnegie Hall, New York.

At their Tabor Academy performance, Mrs. Katrina Saltonstall, Activities Director, managed this musical project which was a huge success and which the community of Marion enjoyed to the utmost.

Inasmuch as Steven Lipsitt is entering his senior year at Yale University and is carrying a heavy schedule there, majoring in musicand languages, his brother Eric will replace him as conductor this coming year.

Eric Lipsitt, who graduated from Yale University cum laude last May, is entering his pre-medical course at Yale. Eric has been soloist with the chorus, and is accomplished on piano, trombone and banjo.

MOSQUITO BITES

Public Health Commissioner Dr. Alfred L. Frechette advises persons in or near fresh water swamp areas of Bristol and Plymouth Counties in southeastern Massachusetts to take precautions against mosquito bites in order to protect themselves from possible eastern equine encephalitis.

Dr. Frechette stressed that no one has become ill with encephalitis; however, routine Department tests reveal a larger than usual number of mosquitoes in the area, some of which are carrying the encephalities virus.

Eastern equine encephalitis is an annual concern in the seacoast regions of the northeast United States. The disease is usually confined to small bird populations in marsh areas that are the habitat for mosquitoes, the main carrier of encephalitis. Occasionally, the amount of the virus in the environment increases and affects mammals such as horses and humans. The first frost of the season will eradicate the larger than usual mosquito problem.

Persons in and around the swamp areas should be sure to wear clothing with long sleeves and long pants, use mosquito re-

FREEZER FACTS

The warm, lazy, hazy days of summer have a definite effect on the American palate -- visions of meat, potatoes and heavy desserts give way to thoughts of crisp salads, fish, and garden-fresh fruits and vegetables.

To take full advantage of summer's bounties, it makes good sense to study the hard, "cold facts" on use of freezer space, say experts at Admiral, makers of upright and chest freezers. Good use of freezer space can help hedge against food cost inflation and capture seasonal foods at their best.

How you decide what foods to store depends on your family's tastes. But remember these tips if you want to get the most out of summer food values:

. The key to successful freezing is packaging. If food is wrapped tightly and is fairly waterproof, storage time can be increased. If food is not wrapped well, it will get "freezer burn" from loss of moisture.

. If you plan to freeze fresh fruits and vegetables, keep in mind that nutritional losses can be minimized by freezing them within a few hours of gathering.

. Be a savvy shopper this summer. Keep an eye open for specials on foods that can be frozen. For example, if meats or
